

Walter J. Radermacher

1970 – 1975: Studies in business administration in Aachen and Münster

1975 – 1977: member of the academic staff in economic mathematics and operations research at University of Münster.

1978-2003: various positions in Destatis, the Federal Statistical Office of Germany; during the nineties, in charge of setting-up the German Environmental Economic Accounting

2003: Vice-President Destatis

2006 – 2008: President of Destatis and Federal Returning Officer

2008 – 2016: Director General Eurostat and Chief Statistician of the European Union

2007: Chair of the Working Group Statistics under the German Presidency of the Council of the European Union

2005 – 2008: Chair of the UN Committee of Experts on Environmental-Economic Accounting (UNCEEA)

2012 – 2014: Co-chair of the preparatory committee for the establishment of UN-GGIM: Europe, the regional committee of the United Nations Initiative on Global Geospatial Information Management (UN-GGIM)

1982 – 1998: Teaching assignments in statistics and environmental economics at Wiesbaden Business School and University of Lüneburg

2015 to date: PhD Researcher at the Department of Statistical Sciences, Sapienza University, Rome

Since October 2017: President of FENStatS (<http://fenstats.eu>)

Author of several papers (<http://orcid.org/0000-0001-6586-4529> or https://www.researchgate.net/profile/Walter\_Radermacher/publications)